VON ARNIM'S TRIAL.

The Witnesses for the Prosecution Under Guard of the Police.

TESTIMONY BY THE PRISONER.

BERLIN, Dec. 12, 1874. At the commencement of the proceedings in the Von Arnim trial to-day, the public prosecutor said that several friends of the prisoner had approached witnesses in the waiting room and held interviews with them. Such practices were inad-missible, and he gave notice that the next time they occurred he would use harsher measures against the persons committing the offence.

THE "PRO MEMORIA" PAPER AND THE LETTERS ON THE VATICAN COUNCIL. After the examination of several witnesses

Count Von Arnim took the stand.

He acknowledged that the paper entitled "Pro Memoria" emanated from himself, but declined to state whether he caused its publication.

He also declined to say to whom he addressed the two letters relating to the Ecumenical

The following despatch has been received by the Consul General of the Argentine Republic in New York, Mr. Edward F. Davison:

BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 9, 1874.

General Rocca has deleated Arredondo and taken his army prisoners. The same week has seen the surrender of the two rebel armies. Make public the complete pacification of the country. AVELLANEDA, President.

ANOTHER CLERICAL SCANDAL.

Alleged Gross Immorality on the Part by His Friends.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12, 1874. of a Clergyman-An Emphatic Defence

A number of persons assembled at Raines' Hall to-night to hear Rev. Daniel Sommer, pastor of the Dolphin street Christian church, read a statement written by him covering charges of alleged ally against Rev. Altred N. Gilbert, pastor of the Pace street Christian church. The audience included members of both congregations, and consider able feeling was manifested. One of Gilbert's friends arose and interrupted the reading by pronouncing the statement an infamous lie. At the conclu on of the reading another of Gilbert's parisn ioners declared that the charges were wholly laise, and that Rev. Mr. Gilbert would in good time fully vindicate his character. Some contusion ensued, and at one time there was every indication that the meeting would wind up in a row.

Instalment on Bonds To Be Paid-Decision of the Supreme Court Regarding the Torbett War Issue.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 12, 1874. I am omcially informed that arrangements have been consummated to-day to pay a sum amounting, in round numbers, to $630,000, on the twentyone millions of Tennessee bonds, through the Fourth National Bank of New York, on January 1, announced to-day that the Court would shortly announced to-day that the Court would not the rew issue of the Bank of Tennessee, more commonly known as "The Torbett war issue." There are six different questions in the case to be decided. The Torbett issue amounts to $1,000,000, and is principally held by brokers and speculators.

CRIME IN TENNESSEE.

Arrest of Ku Klux Murderers-The Murder of Baur, the Swiss Consular

Alexander Draper, John Bush and Timothy Apple, Ku Klux, the alleged murderers of Dick Mc-Kinly, were arrested in Pulnam county yesterday and brought here to-day for safe keeping.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury, which investigated the death of J. W. Baur, sub-Swiss Consular Agent, murdered by the masked robbers of Grundy county, two weeks ago, was that the de-ceased came to his death at the hands of W. H. Bampton, George Myers, Webb, Burt and Purdon, and that it was a wilful, malicious, deliberate and felonious murder. This is the strongest verdict over readered in Tennessee.

CONFESSION OF MURDER

SHOOTING ON SIGHT.

Fatal Afray Between Dakota Roughs-Only One of Them Killed. ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 12, 1874.

To-day at Bismarck, D. T., a rough named O'Neill was shot through the heart by another rough known as Paddy Hall. O'Neif had been drinking considerthe evening he had a scuffe with Hall, and shortly after O'Neill got a revolver and shotgun and chased Hall round the town. Hall also got a revolver to defend himself, and the result is as above stated. Hall surrendered himself immediately to the Sherta. O'Neill has borne a bad name and is believed to have been a murderer awaiting justice.

THE PEMALE COUNTERPEITER.

Her Operations in the Southern Counties—She is Held to Appear. ERIE, Pa., Dec. 12, 1874. Mrs. C. M. Jones, nee Ellnor M. Jones, arrested by United States Detective Gilbert B. Perkins, in feit money, had an examination before United States Commissioner Scroggs at Buffalo to-day. The testimony showed that she "pushed" great quantities of the spurious stuff in the southern tier of counties. She was held to ball in the sum of $2,500 to appear before the next term of the District Court, to be held in Albany the third Tuesday in January, 1875.

NICKEL COUNTERFEITERS ABBESTED.

LOUISIANA.

Intense Excitement Over the Action of the Returning Board.

RADICAL LEADERS ON THE SITUATION.

Covert Threats of Hanging Published in the Local Papers.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE BOARD.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12, 1874. The refusal of the Returning Board to proceed with the canvass to-day creates the wildest excitement, which is intensified by a report that, last night, arms and supplies looking to a siege, were taken into the State House. I have just seen the leading radicals, including Kellogg, Antoine, Packard and Beckwith, and Kellogg appears to be the only man not alarmed. He asserts that he is still disposed to give the people justice; that the despatch published in the HeralD of the 9th inst through the Washington bureau from a State officer here was "bosh" and unauthorized by him; that if any violence is used against the Returning Board it will not be by White Leaguers, but by foreigners; that there is no necessity to garrison the State House with federal troops, as he can have them near him in a moment; that Grant has given such orders that federal troops are drilling day and night in the streets of the city, firing from a "knee rest;" that he understands the situation, and if any further attempt is made by his opponents to dislodge him it will be TREASON TO THE UNITED STATES, and the strong arm of the United States will "reach far and snatch their leaders," as he terms it, for treason. I suggested to him there was a difference between treason to the national and to the State government, when he declared with emphasis, "Resistance to my government is the same, as the President has ordered its enemies to disperse and they have not done so; hence a subsequent attack will be treason to the federal government." He further remarked as he politely escorted your correspondent from his private office that he had no fear of the people's party offering any indignity to the radical leaders now, but expected trouble on the meeting of the Legis-

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR ANTOINE stated he hoped the conservative leaders would control the rank and die and that the influence of the HERALD would be directed towards unification of races in Lousiana; that the interests of the blacks and the whites were identical and he would deplore such an outrage as the throwing out of De Soto parish if it caused a conflict.

I met Beckwith, the representative of Attorney General Williams, and Packard in the office of the latter just now. Beckwith was lying on a sofa, uneasity toying with the dagger in his sword cane, ever and anon drawing it and examining the point. He said but little, merely making anxious inquiries of your correspondent as to the situation, but admitted that his residence was under surveillance. Packard said but little, but felt uneasy because I had coupled his name in a published despatch with Attorney General Fields' attempt to disfranchise the loreign element and asked me to deny it as well as the report that he is a party to the plan to arrest the democratic members of the Legislature, under the Enforcement act, and nold them until the Legislature is organized, on the 4th of January. A captain of the police assures me that the action of the Board in adjourning to-day was taken to AVOID AN ATTACE, and that it is expected to-night. At the present writing there is no movement of the White Leaguers, who appear to be following their daily avocations. The Bulletin, however, in its afternoon edition, just put upon the street, is warlike, and its editorials have covert threats of hanging. Under the heading, "The Treachery Culminating," it says, speaking of Wells' adjournment of the

The fate of the State is hanging in the balance The whole people of Louisiana hang tremblingly upon the action of the Returbing Board, and the upon the action of the Returning Board, and the people of the United States are hanging in expectation of the result, and yet Mr. Wells has pressing "personal business" which engages his attention. In other words, he says to the people, "Go hang I have something to attend to more important than your business."

In another article it says :-The ballot box stuffers and supervising pimps have done their dirty work. The prevaricating Returning Board is now engaged in giving a quast legal indorsement to the supendous iraud, and

THE BEGINNING OF THE END. Again, in its report of the Board's proceedings, the Bulletin utters the significant remark :-

Some of the leaders of the people's party de clare this paper does not represent them, but all the democratic papers, including the Picayune, to-day denounce the Board for its action in the De

I have just been informed by a Custom House official that since I left the State House an hour ago all the side doors were closed and barricaded, but I cannot verify it at this writing.

ALARM OF THE BOARD. There is a very ugly feeling abroad and the Re-turning Board is evidently alarmed, as they have adjourned over until Monday. They will, how-ever, hold an informal secret session to-morrow. Although the leaders are doing all in their power to restrain the masses, trouble may be expected

The President's Assurance of Protection to Kellogg-The State House Occupied by the Metropolitans-Preparations for

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12, 1874. Your correspondent has been assured by a prominent radical that Kellogg is master of the situation; that Grant has issued orders that make it only necessary for Kellogg to whistle when he wants troops, and Emory, will respond and garrison the State House. Kellogg stated as much to me in to-day's interview, but did not say that he would whistle for Emory. A VISIT TO THE STATE HOUSE.

I have just left the State House, after making a thorough inspection of it, and find it in charge of Captain Lawler, of the Metropolitans, and 200 men, with arms and supplies, ready for a siege. While in the building your correspondent, reading by sound, heard fisshed over the wires despatche: from the Chiefot Police ordering reinforcements to the State House by details from other precincts, and a response from Captain Lawier that he wanted no reinforcements at night, but would accept them in the day time. I found that the redoors are true, and Lawier says he will fight until dislodged and overcome by superior force. There will be no attack upon the State House, as the men who are sought are not there. There is, however, a probability of trouole belore daylight.

THE LATEST.

The courtesy of the people and a determination on the part of the leaders to render Kellogg's whistle unnecessary has defeated and adjourned any assault upon the State House until a more convenient season. Everybody is to-night asking convenient season. Everybody is to-night asking for Angerson, of the Returning Board. But he is

It is a fact, though not heretolore made known, that Reil passed through this city some weeks since on his way to Canada, although a re-ward was then and is now offered for his arrest, and officers here are waiting to arrest him.

OBSEQUIES OF EZRA CORNELL

The Village of Ithaca Draped in Mourn ing-Tribute of the Students of the University to Their Departed Benefactor-The Funeral Ceremonics,

ITHACA, N. Y., Dec. 12, 1874. At an early bour this morning people from the surrounding towns in this county began to arrive to pay the last sad tribute of respect to our honorable dead, Ezra Cornell. The arrival of the railway trains on the various railroads brought large fore the hour designated for the funeral the town was thronged. Every public building, all business was througed. Every public building, all business places, many private residences and arriving and departing trains are heavily draped in mourning, and all flags are at half-mast.

At half-past nine o clock the body was removed from Mr. Cornell's late residence, norne by eight students, pall-bearers, passing through a line of cadets armed and uniformed, extending to the door of the library. The hall was beautifully and appropriately decorated, embracing many elegant door of the library. The hall was beautifully and appropriately decorated, embracing many elegant floral offerings from the friends of the deceased in New York and e.sewhere. The doors were thrown open and for three and a half hours a great crowd filed through the hall with solenin mien to view for the last time the mortal remains of their great benefactor. At one o'clock the remains were returned to the house, where the services consisted of the reading of the Burial Service by Rev. Dr. Wilson and prayer and a brief address by Rev. Dr. Steubins. At these services only the immediate friends of the family were admitted. After the services a procession were admitted. After the services a procession formed and wended its way to the University grounds. All business was suspended and the remains were followed to their last resting place by a vast throng of people. Many distinguished citizens from other parts of the State were
